

SCRT reports required to size your DevTest container

Thank you for your interest in the Application Development and Test Solution (DevTest) container. In order for us to understand exactly what a proposal would look like, we need to collect and analyze your SCRT data.

We need a set of SCRT reports for three consecutive months, the oldest of which cannot be more than six months prior to the implementation of the DevTest contract. As an example, a contract based on reports that include January, February and March data would have to be executed before the end of June, otherwise the data collection and analysis process will need to be repeated. We recommend that you gather reports from the most recent three months. The set of required reports are:

1. Three months' worth of Business as usual (BAU) reports, which include all LPARS from all environments.
2. Three months' worth of Production only reports, using an SCRT EXCLUDE statement to exclude all DevTest LPARS from all environments.
3. Three months' worth of DevTest only reports, using an SCRT EXCLUDE statement to exclude all production LPARS from all environments.

These reports will allow us to size a DevTest container for you. We look forward to receiving these reports so that we can create the proposal. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to ask.
